“ Larry and I extend our deepest, most sincere sympathy to the family for the earthly loss of Faye Elliott. These are some of the things I'll always remember about her. Like a beautiful rose, Faye was true to who she was. Unassuming, she didn't put on airs; she was just --a real, down to earth person, quiet, faithful, moderate in all things, loyal to family, kind, loving. and simply sweet.

Whenever I think of her or see her picture, I clearly hear her kind, quiet, distinctive voice with a slight southern accent, "Hello, Frances. How are you?"

That takes me back in time, for people now days call me Fran. I've known her since I was a little girl growing up in the Free Will Baptist Church on Finch Street (at the time).

In these later years, I shared a Sunday School class with her, where her prayer requests always seemed to be for family members, not herself. She loved her family and God so much.

Remarkably, over her 85 years, her appearance had changed only slightly, as in gentle aging. She still looked "like Faye," but the heart of who Faye was also remained the same over the years. Like the rose slightly fading, remains a rose, she was still the Faye I'd always known.

The world around her changed dramatically over the years, but she remained true to who she was... just like the rose.

Like the fragrant rose leaves a scent in the room, so Faye has left a beautiful, vibrant fragrance of a life well lived for the Lord and her family. Yes, her fragrance does indeed tell the story.

Rest in peace, dear Faye, with Jesus and your husband, in the place Jesus prepared for you ... together forever... Lester and Faye Elliott.

Rejoice, dear Elliott family, in the legacy and memories your parents have left you, for many would envy you of that.

I, too, rejoice to have known them both.

“ I am so deeply saddened to hear of Faye's passing! She was such a good person and such a dear dear friend to my mom, Veneda. They sure had some great times together over the years. I guess she, Lester, and my mom are having a great camp meeting in Heaven. I am heart broken.

“ I will forever remember Faye as a faithful Christian. Her and Lester sort of adopted us into their family. Always saying hello any time we ran into each other, and taking the time to ask about each of my kids. I'm so very sorry for the earthly loss of such a wonderful woman, but I rejoice in the knowledge that I will see her again some day. May God's grace and peace be upon her family at this difficult time in their lives.
