

Anna Mae Crots

December 24, 1924 - January 30, 2014

A cherished mother, grandmother and friend to many, Anna Mae Crots went home to be with her precious Lord on January 30, 2014. She was 89. Anna Mae was born December 24, 1924 in Blissfield, Michigan to Fred and Hazel (Caswell) Brieschke. She graduated from Blissfield High School and attended Huntington College. She married Edwin Crots on April 6, 1946. They were together 53 years and supported each other as life-long partners, raising five children, before his death in 1999.

Anna Mae loved God with every ounce of her being and lived each day striving to serve him and love her family and friends. She had a sweet spirit and took pride in the accomplishments of each of her four daughters, one son and many grandchildren. Visits to her home always included a few cookies or a bowl full of homemade popcorn, enjoyed while looking through the many photo albums she kept updated with the latest happenings of her family. Games of Scrabble were competitive and full of fun. Always, her Bible was close by. It's worn pages, full of hand-written thoughts, were an insight into the heart of a woman always quick with encouragement or just the right words of comfort. Anna Mae was unendingly selfless, never complaining and always putting the needs of others first, far before her own. She was a life-long member of Element Church, formerly First United Brethren Church of Blissfield. There, she was involved in the choir for many years, in the children's ministry, missionary groups, Bible studies and visitation teams. She helped with deliveries for Meals on Wheels. Anna Mae loved music and was happiest singing and playing her guitar to bless those around her. She was a member of the Silvertones, a senior band whose members volunteered their time to play at events, nursing homes and churches. Anna Mae spread her joy even in her final days of sickness.

She will be greatly missed. She is survived by five children, Linda (Bob) Osborn, Loraine (Gerry) Tilker, Coleen (Thom) Gentz, Connie (Tom) Fenton and Lee (Julie) Crots; 10 grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren and one brother, Elden Brieschke.

Services for Anna Mae will take place at 11:00 a.m. on Monday, February 3, at Element Church in Blissfield. Burial will follow at Pleasant View Cemetery. Visitation will be on Sunday, February 2, from 2 to 6 p.m. at Wagley Funeral Home, Tagsold Chapel in Blissfield. Memorial contributions in her memory may be given to Hospice of Lenawee, Blissfield Element Church, or the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association. Condolences are welcomed at www.WagleyFuneralHome.com.

“ I am so sad that I missed mom's funeral today. By the time I thought to ask when it was it was too late. I so much wanted to be there to celebrate her home-going.

Anna Mae holds special memories to each of us here at Blissfield Place. For many years, she came faithfully each Thursday to play her guitar and sing with the Bible Study group along with our residents. She was not only an inspiration to the residents but was very much an inspiration to me, As I worked in my office I could hear Anna Mae sing the spiritual songs and see the heavenly glow on her face. It was obvious she lived the life she was singing about and that she was envisioning her heavenly father and all he had done for her.

Anna Mae's family is a testament of her life. They have also been a blessing to the staff as well as to me. "Thank you" to each of the family members for sharing your mother with us. She has been an inspiration to each us. along with each of you, I plan to see your beloved mother in heaven someday.

I am sorry for your loss. The loss is great. I am sure it hurts inside of you but I know that you know you will see her again! It is so great to have that assurance. I am sure her many prayers for each of you have been bottled up and are spilling over to continue to bless you and to help you through life.

“ You, her family, are all blessed to have been in Anna Mae's life. She blessed all who knew her as well. It is so hard to lose someone you have loved all your life, and my thoughts and prayers are with you all. I thought her obituary was beautifully written and so true. She was the epitome of sweetness, God love her. And God love you, too.
