“ Angie and I send our sincere sympathy. We loved your mom. We are sorry to not be with you today, but you are in our thoughts and prayers. She was a beautiful woman, and I sure remember seeing her a while back when she was attending a musical in Tecumseh. She was so beautiful. I treasure how wonderful she was at Penneys. She was a gracious saleslady and always so friendly and helpful. Tell Doug that we send our love and prayers to him also. Wish we could be there. With love, Judy Dennis and Angela (Dennis) Hill.

“ My Grandmother was a lot of life in a small package! My first memories go back to the fun she would bring while we were together. Since we were a military family we did not get to live close so when we did see each other it was packed full of adventure and fun. It was the little things she did like bring us homemade strawberry freezer jam and let me eat it out of the container with a spoon (who needed bread). She taught me to soak my bubble gum in water to get the sugar out of it so I could blow bigger bubbles than my siblings. She taught us how to make Christmas ornaments and decorations that fill my house today. As I look at the decorations that she made, I can fill the love that she poured into them for us. We camped, fished and played games. She told us amazing stories about the great times she and my Grandpa had. They danced (which always amazed me)! Her laugh was contagious and her smile was one in a million. I remember one time while we were visiting we all went water skiing, when it was her turn to go out she was ready. She was out and I will never forget how she seemed to disappear and when I saw her she had a sheet of water over her face and the biggest smile! When we retrieved her she was giggling and smiling from ear to ear! How I will remember this amazing women that I was Blessed to call my Grandmother...she was adventurous, full of life and most of all she loved people. She loved to visit and talk with people. I guess that is another thing she taught me...the gift of gab! I love you my sweet Grandma and I will see you again one day!

Love,

The most fun loving Grandmother to our four children... Always brought fun games and toys, but best of all would play those things with us! She taught me that you could remain young at heart no matter your age.. She was Sunday School teacher to my four year old cousin when I was spending the summer in Michigan from my home in Mississippi. She took me under her wing and took me to meet her daughter Pat who was my age. But as we were going up the stairs at the church to meet Pat, she smiled and said, "I better not do this as my son is nineteen and he loved blonds" Pat and I were seventeen and became the best of friends... Great lady!!!
