“ My favorite memory of Uncle Bruce is a combination of two days.

On the morning of his wedding Uncle Bruce asked me to "help" him make tissue paper flowers for decorations for his car. He patiently taught me to fold and separate the tissues. I was six years old. I don't know if any of my creations made it to the car, but he made me feel special because I was helping with his wedding.

Several years ago I told him about my memory, and that I thought about it just before Mother's Day every year. As a teacher, every year I have my first or second grade students make a bouquet of tissue flowers for gifts for their mothers. His expression was priceless.
