“ How do I share a single memory when so many of mine growing up included him and the "Crick Boys?" Matt was called Matty back then and was a part of the core of my start in life. Those friendships were bright spot during many hard times and became fond memories that I appreciate so much. I always wanted to be one of the "Cricks."

Thank you Matt for being a friend. As much as my heart hurts so much for this loss, I truly believe you are on to a better adventure and I hope some day we will all be reunited as friends again.

To the rest of the "Crick Boys" and your families- you are in my heart, my prayers and my thoughts. Sending strength and love your way. Please let me know if you need anything.

I still can't wrap my mind around you being gone from this Earth. So many memories... Like the time you drove 80 miles to get me Taco Bell in the middle of the night? Thanks for that brother <3
