“ On February 21st 2007, my mother passed, Lillian Westgate, Becky was there for all of my family, she took me and my sister to the hospital to see my mom, she stayed as well to comfort us, she attended my mom's funeral, She and her Husband Kevin had a private dinner for me and my family @ their home, She and her husband Kevin made food, and brang it to us, Becky had a HEART BIGGER than life, she would give anything to anyone in need, she was a lot of people's angel here on earth, However now She is TRULY GOD'S Angel, and watching over all her loved one here is exactly what she WILL DO, it's what she does BEST, LOVE YA BECKY, tell my mom and Cindy, and Dawn I say hello, and I miss them dearly, Until we meet again Becky..... “ I met Becky and Kevin at My Consignment store(Second Chance Consignment Boutique)probably about 5yrs ago, I discussed donating clothes to them for the homeless men and Becky brought in a photo album and had pictures of all the guys and knew all their names and all about them, That right there told me that she cared and her heart was in it, Her and Kevin went over and beyond? Also another time I Remer her telling me she never had a real Coach handbag, well I made sure she got one she so deserved it! While she was recently in the hospital she sent me a private message on Facebook, she said "did a nurse from Toledo hospital come into your store? Even while she was sick she was telling everyone about my store, What a Big Heart Becky had I will so Miss her so much, God must have bigger plans for her , She definitely was an Amazing woman RIP Becky Love you?

“ The journey we was on was hard but very precious to both of us. You cared about everyone your journey touched. You remembered their names, you cared about their life, you talked about God when you was with them for 2 minutes or 30. I learned so much from your friendship and I treasure every minute. Your unselfishness shined in your life! You are a blessing to me, Mike and Emily. I am so Happy you were born.

“ Becky was one of my dearest friends. I know she had many and it is precious to me the moments and hours we spent together. Her outlook on life was a "can do" attitude. "If it crosses your mind to do it, you CAN DO IT, so DO IT!" The commitment to help others improve their lot in life was not limited to family or close friends. She believed if you were put in her path with a need, it was up to her to help out. Be it a hug, a smile, a word of encouragement or a new pair of shoes!
I will certainly miss her smile and laughter as the days go by.
Praying God's richest Blessings and Comfort over you Kevin, Heidi & Randy, Scott & Jodie and your families.

“ Becky was an adopted grandma to our kids, especially our daughter, Martina. They were very close. Becky used to call her Sweetie Pie, and Becky was Buttercup and always will be! Kevin is Honey Crunch! Becky is one of the most caring, loving, and giving women I've ever known. I know I will see her again, but my heart breaks. I am so thankful that I hugged her tight in Wal-Mart when I ran into her last Christmas. She never led on that she was battling anything let alone cancer. Becky was not one to complain. She was always concerned about everyone else. Our family will miss her tremendously! God received an amazing angel yesterday! I hope he is ready for her!! Blessings to Kevin, Scott, Heidi, and the rest of the family. You all were her world!! Love and prayers from the Luce family!
