“ Terry was one of my mentors at Detroit Diesel that I really looked up to. We both came from a farming background which gave us plenty of things to talk about. I really appreciated how he treated people, which was very kind and honest. Along with this, he could explain his thoughts and logic to all levels of our organization without using too much engineer speak. He was always wanting to work on the "right things" even if it was not his responsibility (a real continuous improver and team player). No matter how bad his day was, he was always "finer than a frog hair split three ways"! This saying will always stick with me and I hope he can now do everything he dreamed of in retirement in Gods country and on his farm.

“ To Cindy and family,

There are no words to adequately say what I'm feeling. Terry was truly a "wonder" man, never giving up, always positive about the future. His love for his family was incredibly obvious, and sincere to the utmost! I will miss him and the many talks we had with true fondness. My prayers are with him and with you all.
